

Uniflight Global Names Industry Professional Marty Blough as MRO Sales Manager

September 26, 2019 - Uniflight Global, LLC., an integrated provider of helicopter financing, MRO and completions, is pleased to name industry veteran, Marty Blough, as MRO Sales Manager.

Blough is responsible for business development for Uniflight Global Part 145 Repair Stations in Texas & Pennsylvania, as well as providing support to the existing customer base.

Blough is an aviation industry professional with over 35 years of experience in various elements of rotary- and fixed-wing operations.

"Marty's extensive aviation experience and vast network of relationships is a wonderful addition to the Uniflight Global Sales Team. We look forward to working with Marty in our continuing efforts to expand our business." -Ray Weiser, Sales Vice President, Uniflight Global

With a degree in Avionics Technology, Blough owned and operated Monmouth Avionics Inc., a Part 145 Avionics Repair Station.

Blough's focus shifted to airframe and MRO sales with Vector Aerospace. As Director of Sales for the Northeast US, Africa, and the Middle East, Marty provided support for Bell, Sikorsky, and Airbus platforms as well as Turbomeca, Pratt & Whitney, and Rolls Royce engines.

Most recently Blough held a position as Manager – Completions & Projects at Paradigm Aerospace, a subsidiary of Metro Aviation, where as part of the QA Department, he oversaw medical interior refurbishments on a variety of Airbus and Bell airframes.

Blough can be reached at: mblough@uniflight.com or 814-701-8040.
